Introduction to Environmental Justice: A 101 Guide for Lawyers

10th December 2021, Friday, 3.00pm to 4.30pm
VIA ZOOM WEBINAR

Kiu Jia Yaw
LL.B. (Hons), LL.M. (Environmental Law)

Kiu Jia Yaw is a practising lawyer and an advocate for sustainable development. He was called to the Malaysian Bar in 2004. He serves as the Co-Deputy Chair of the Bar Council Environment and Climate Change Committee. The Committee advises and represents the Bar Council in matters relating to the environment and climate change, with a public interest focus.

Jia Yaw is a Secretariat Member of the All-Party Parliamentary Group of Malaysia on the Sustainable Development Goals (APPGM-SDG), a group established by Parliament to help Malaysia achieve the SDGs through the localisation of the goals at the constituency level.

He regularly advises corporations, social enterprises, non-profits and government bodies on organisational governance, design thinking and strategy. Recently, Jia Yaw served as a member of the Academy of Sciences Malaysia's task force formed to study pathways for strengthening environmental governance in Malaysia for the Ministry of Environment & Water.

He was a Chevening Scholar, having read a master's degree in environmental law (LL.M.) at SOAS, University of London.
